Co-Workers of Bride Arrange
House-Warming

An echo of the quiet wedding August 18 of two popular young people of the Mesa district, Miss Beryl Willis and Lambert L. McFaddin, came Thursday night with a surprise house-warming and gift shower planned by the bride's co-workers at the Wiesseman store, and held in the pretty home of the young couple on Orange avenue, Costa Mesa.

Plans for the party were made with such secrecy that arrival of the guests with everything in readiness for a covered dish dinner, was quite as much a surprise to the hosts as had been hoped. The new Mrs. McFaddin had flowers from her own garden arranged about her home, so the floral setting was quite as charming as though it had been planned.

After a merry dinner, the gifts were produced, and the bride discovered herself the proud possessor of a handsome Bavarian china dinner service, the gift of Mrs. F. W. Wiesseman and her daughter, Miss Helen Wiesseman, and a set of Postoria glass, chosen by others on the staff.

In the party with Mr. and Mrs. McFaddin, were Mrs. Wiesseman, Mrs. Helen Wiesseman, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Gold Pollock, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Hostetter, Miss Frances Hammond and Miss Bernice O'Hara.

Quiet Wedding
For their wedding on August 18, the young couple motored to Coronado where they exchanged vows before the Rev. William Hildebrand, of Coronado M. E. church. The bride wore a smart costume in yellow with saddle-brown accessories. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Scudder Willis, of Harbor boulevard, Santa Ana high school and junior college and of the Johnston Secretarial school. She is a member of Santa Ana Junior Ebell society, and is bookkeeper at the Wiesseman store.

Mr. McFaddin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin McFaddin whose ranch home is south of the city, is a graduate of Huntington Beach high school. He is engaged in ranching on the Mesa.

Wedding Party Enjoys Informal Affair in Chapin Home

Coming as a sequel to Thursday night's final rehearsal in preparation for the wedding tonight in First Methodist Bride Chapel of Miss Harriet Chapin and Eugene Anderson, was an informally delightful little party in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Chapin, 515 East Chestnut street.

Wedding gifts and the many pretty things that Miss Chapin has received at a succession of showers, were arranged for the guests' inspection. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served.

Present with the prospective bride and bridegroom, were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Chapin; Mr. and Mrs. Anderson's mother and sister, Mrs. Mamie Anderson and Miss Robbie Anderson of Anaheim; Miss Chapin's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Fleming of Anaheim, who will be best man and matron of honor tonight; a little daughter, Patricia Lou, who will be flower girl; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cook of Fullerton, who will sing vocal and piano numbers; Kirk and George Brenner of Anaheim, who will be ushers.

Arrival From East
Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Smith and Mrs. Smith's sister, Miss Preble Drake, arrived Wednesday at their home, 1717 North Broadway, after having spent the past two months according to custom, in their summer home in the Thousand Isles district of the Great Lakes, in the north channel of Lake Huron.

They returned west on one of the new streamline trains, finding it a most interesting and pleasant experience. The entire country shows the effects of the drought, according to the Santa Anans, who explained that even the summer rains of the Thousand Isles section were lacking. It made it pleasant for vacation seekers, but difficult for those living in that region, declared Mrs. Smith, who said that the situation was especially deplorable in the Canadian section, where the potato crop is almost as important as in Ireland.

Modern Poetry
Section Holds
Beach Meeting

Plans made at the final meeting of the year of Ebell Modern Poetry section, bore fruit Thursday in a delightful day at Laguna Beach, when members and a few guests were entertained in the attractive cottage on High Drive where Mr. and Mrs. John Tessmann are spending the late summer.

It was at the June meeting with Mrs. Terry Stephenson, 1522 North Broadway, that Mrs. Tessmann suggested that she would like to entertain the group during her beach stay and members have anticipated the affair ever since. It lived up to all expectations, for it was truly a pleasant day in a pleasant spot. The home, high up on a hill above the sea, commands a fine view of the ocean and coast line; its garden was blue as the skies with morning glories, and the luncheon, sent in by a caterer, was an enjoyable feature of the day.

In the afternoon Mrs. Aldrie Worswick, section leader, introduced an informal "vacation program," by asking each in turn to recount some of the summer's experiences. Vacation trails had led the members far afield, but probably the most exciting thing befell Mrs. Edith Thatcher, for she gained two new grandsons, one born to her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Reark (Eleanor Thatcher) of Berkeley and the other to her son, Dr. Everett Thatcher of Schenectady, N. Y.

In addition to these interesting talks there was a magazine article read by Mrs. Tessmann, Carl Van Doren's "Portrait From Memory," a study of the late Elinor Wylie which appeared in the August Harper's and a poem, "My Friend, the Professor," by Mrs. Harwood Sharp.

The section will resume formal study programs Tuesday afternoon, October 13 at a meeting with Miss Beulah May. Mrs. Tessmann will have the program on "Burning Cities" by Stephen Vincent Benet.

Four guests shared Thursday's varied interests, the Misses Mary and Margaret Scott of Springfield, Mo., guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Scott; Mr. and Mrs. John Tessmann of the home, and Paul Veley. Members present were the hostess, Mrs. Tessmann, the section leader, Mrs. Worswick, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Veley (the Rev. Julia Budlong), Mrs. Robert Northcross, Mrs. Terry Stephenson, Miss Martha Ritchey, Miss Isabel Whiting, Mrs. Alice Hill Hatch, Mrs. John M. Cloyes, Mrs. E. M. Nealley, Mrs. Lillian Pritchett and Mrs. Ralph Smedley.

September Bride-elect
Inspires Linen Shower

Miss Kathryn Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Weber, 1905 South Sycamore street, fiancée of Floyd Klingenberg, was honored Thursday night at a prettily appointed party in the home of Mr. Klingenberg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Klingenberg, 792 South Sycamore street.

It was revealed that the marriage of the young couple will take place Friday, September 4 in the Klingenberg home.

Guests spent part of the evening hemming tea towels for the bride-elect, who was showered with an assortment of linens. The packages were placed in a handsome cedar chest which was Mrs. Klingenberg's gift to his fiancée.

The hostess served refreshments buffet style from a table spread with lace and centered with pink roses. Yellow, pink and green tapers provided a soft glow for this pleasant interval.

Present in addition to the honoree and her mother, Mrs. F. H. Weber were Mesdames Elmer Ritter, Ray Cole, Herbert Enns, Ernest Peters; the Misses Neil Lawrence, Irene Lawrence, Genevieve Eustis, Ruth Cotham, and the hostess.

Griggs-Braden Wedding Is Quiet Event in Pastor's Home

In a quiet wedding at the home of the Rev. Otto A. Fischer, 732 Eastwood street, Miss Pauline Braden of this city and Roy Griggs of Orange, were united in marriage last night at 8 o'clock with only the bride's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Braden, 1112 North Baker street, present.

Miss Braden's gown for the wedding was of coronation blue crepe worn with a gardenia corsage.

The couple left immediately after the wedding for a week's trip through Old Mexico, with Ensenada as their destination. They will be at home to their friends after September 5, in their new home at 414 Marietta Place, Orange.

Mr. Griggs, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Griggs of Costa Mesa, had his high school training in Le Flore, Okla. and is employed with the McCandless and Benton company of Orange. His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Braden, 817 Pacific street, and has been with the telephone company since her graduation from Santa Ana high school.

Many parties and gift showers are being given in compliment to Miss Marjorie Hoff, the date of whose wedding to Loren Hemphill of Long Beach, has been announced as September 25. The wedding will take place in the home of Miss Hoff's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoff, 1124 North Flower street. Mr. Hemphill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hemphill of Long Beach.

Mexican Appointments
Give Charm to Party
For Easterner

Mrs. Nelson Visel's party, given early this week to compliment her houseguest, Mrs. Ray Connolly, who with her small daughter Marcia, arrived recently from Nevada City, Iowa, launched a succession of delightful affairs such as the bridge luncheon at which Mrs. Maurice Enderle entertained yesterday.

Mrs. Enderle made her Yorba street home quite delightful for the event, and adopted a Mexican theme which proved most intriguing to the visitors from the middle west. Zinnias and Mexican sunflowers from the gardens of the hostess, gave the correct exotic touch to the background. In the dining room where luncheon was served, the table, set with colored pottery and quaint Mexican glass, was centered with a tray of fruits in rich shades. Wallace and Allen Enderle, young sons of the home, lent assistance throughout the afternoon.

Hand-blocked place cards depicting native scenes, were written for the hostess, Mrs. Enderle, by the honor guest, Mrs. Connolly, Mrs. Nelson Visel, Mrs. Horace King and Howard, Miss Ruth Armstrong.

ded on Sunday, August 23 in First Christian church, to Mr. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rogers of Orange. Upon return from their honeymoon, the young people will be at home to friends early in September at 609 West Fifth street.

MRS. CHARLES E. MERIT
Because her older sisters had all been married in the home of their mother, Mrs. Olive Kinley of Costa Mesa, Miss Ethel Kinley also chose a home setting for the rites of August 22, at which she became the bride of Charles E. Merit of San Diego. The bride attended State Teachers' College in San Diego after graduation from Santa

Mrs. Loyal K. King, Mrs. Richard Couden and Mrs. William Stauffer. In the afternoon's contract play, Laguna pottery bowls filled with luscious orange marmalade made by the hostess, were awarded Mrs. Stauffer and Miss Armstrong with high scores at their individual tables. Guest prize for Mrs. Connolly was a sugar and cream set in blue Mexican glass.

Calvary Folk Picnic

Much success attended plans of Women's Missionary society of Calvary church, for an Anaheim park picnic supper held Thursday night for members and their families. A hundred or more were in attendance, each family group bringing contribution to the supper menu.

After the picnic members and guests lingered in the park to listen to their pastor, the Rev. Frank E. Lindgren, as he recounted events of his summer trip east. He only recently rejoined Mrs. Lindgren in their home, 816 Kilson Drive, after an extended visit with friends and relatives in the east. Return to California was made in the new automobile upon which he took delivery at the plant.

The committee arranging Thursday night's party was composed of Messrs. and Mesdames M. Black, A. R. Marshall, C. M. Gribble and Joseph Hickness.

Engaged Girl
Inspires Gay
Party Today

Summertime informality prevailed this afternoon at a gala party given at the Hermosa Beach home of Mrs. Remington Mills (Harriet Gruettner) in compliment to Miss Ruth Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Owens, whose marriage to Ernest Stump Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stump, 2031 North Rosa street will occur September 13.

Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Q. L. Hardy and Miss Betty Wiswall joined in giving the affair, which began with the serving of an inviting luncheon at one o'clock. Tables arranged in the garden were shaded with Deauville umbrellas.

Many and varied were the diversions enjoyed for the remainder of the afternoon. Some of the group played bridge, others knitted or sewed, and some of the guests near swimming in the ocean as near by.

Miss Owens was presented with many lovely gifts in crystal.

Invited to share the affair with the three hostesses and the honoree were Mesdames George Bradley, William Jerome Jr., Joseph Irwin, Edward Adams, Crawford Nalle, G. Stanley Norton, Ralph Cunningham, Clarence Ranney, Robert Guild, Constance Vegely Baird, Oliver Lindemeyer, E. Lee Smith, Marcia, Martha Wallingford, Barbara Horton, Loretta Spangler, Barbara Horton, Charlene Lowell, all of this city; Mrs. Herald Williams (Caroline Ferry) Los Angeles; Mrs. Findlay Walker, Ocean-side; Mrs. Manley Natland, Long Beach.

The Thornburn Whites
Conclude Vacation
In High Sierras

Mr. and Mrs. Thornburn White, Red Hill boulevard, returned Thursday evening from the High Sierras, where they spent the past week enjoying the beauties and pleasures of the Mammoth Lakes region.

They joined a group of relatives including Dr. and Mrs. Strothard White and Dr. and Mrs. Roy White of Pasadena and the Rev. and Mrs. Harry White and son, Warren, and Mr. and Mrs. Harriet Knickerbocker of Long Beach, all of whom have been spending the greater part of the summer in the High Sierras.

Fishing was a diversion to which all of the group devoted much time, with men of the party spending part of the past week on pack trips up the mountain trails.

Returning home, the Thornburn Whites were rejoined by their little son, Jimmie, who had spent the week with his paternal grandmother, Mrs. William Horace White, on Holt avenue, and with his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Earl Sprague Barr of San Diego, who was a guest in the Holt avenue home.

Earlier in the summer Mr. and Mrs. Thornburn White and their son had vacationed on Balboa Island. Recently, Mrs. White and Jimmie were guests in the Barr home in San Diego.

Effective Use
Of Color Adds
Charm to Home

Colors chosen by Mrs. Kingsley Tuttle, in decorative plans for the dessert bridge at which she was hostess yesterday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spencer, 2351 North Park boulevard, were especially effective in conjunction with the spaciousness and beauty of the home and its heirloom furniture.

Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle and their cunning small daughter, Carol, live on Trabuco Road, but it was natural that guests should be entertained in the girlhood home of Mrs. Tuttle, the former Miss Adelaide Spencer.

Desert tables were so arranged that each had its individual color in flowers and glass. One table glowed with ruby tones, one was in azure blue, another in delicate green, one in rose pink and a fifth in clear crystal with white blossoms. These hues were brought into perfect harmony by the green tissues and ribbons of prizes awarded at the close of bridge play, to Mrs. Franklin West, Mrs. Stanley Anderson, Mrs. Kenneth Conner, in the order of scoring.

Mrs. Tuttle's guest list included Mesdames Warren Wilson, Arold Norton, Lyman Farwell, Stanley Anderson, Leland Finley, Harold Harrison, Frank Harrington, Kenneth Beard, Burt Zaiser, Edward Hall, Joseph Smith Jr., Kenneth Conner, Richard Winkler, William Jeffrey, Franklin West, Joel Ogle, Glenn Mathes, Lyle Kelley, Stanley Norton, Crawford Nalle, Rolia Hays Jr., Wayne Harrison and Miss Ann Tarver.

Birthday Club Reunion
Provides Enjoyable Evening

Only one meeting, a picnic in June, has been shared this summer by members of a once-active little birthday club, until Thursday night when they came together again for an enjoyable affair. This happy reunion was staged at the Knox Berry farm near Buena Park, where club members and guests enjoyed one of the chicken dinners for which the place is noted. Three August birthdays were observed. Mrs. Will Wycoff and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Thompson all being August celebrants. In fact the party actually occurred on Mr. Thompson's anniversary. Much of the lively chat pertained to summer travels, some of the club members having traveled extensively since the June picnic, and others with equally interesting trips in store.

In the party were the Misses Esther Coffman, Ethel Coffman, Helen Gallagher, Mabel Cole, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wycoff and their niece, Miss Evelyn Wycoff, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Timm and their nephew, Lyle Brown of Chicago, Judge John G. Mitchell, Arthur Gallagher and J. A. King of Corvallis, Ore., who is here in his former home on a business trip.

Miss Marjorie Hoff
Receives Gifts at Outdoor Party

Miscellaneous gifts were showered upon Miss Marjorie Hoff, fiancée of Loren Hemphill, Thursday evening during a pleasant party which had its setting in the home of the bride-elect's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Hoff, 1231 South Parton street.

The group of guests included Miss Hoff's co-workers at the J. C. Penney store, where she has been employed. They were seated at outdoor tables set with pottery and decorated with streamers during the serving of 8:30 o'clock dinner. Delicious lemon and chocolate pie were included in the dessert course.

Mrs. Ray Shilton and her little son, "Happy," had conspired in arranging a unique stunt during which they presented an array of miscellaneous shower gifts to the honoree. The mother and son donned rain coats, making their entry with accompanying umbrellas in readiness for the shower.

The group went indoors for the remainder of the evening, which was spent informally.

S. Hoff, 1231 South Parton street. The occasion marked the 53rd birthday of Mr. Michael.

Guests were seated at tables in the backyard for a delectable covered-dish dinner, with its dessert course including a decorated angel-food cake.

Present were Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Aubrey and son, Paul; J. B. Smith, Frank Cannon, L. S. Hoff, C. C. Hoff; Miss Marjorie Hoff of this city and her fiancée, Loren Hemphill of Long Beach; the Misses Mary Armstrong and Josephine Michael, with Mrs. Anna Hoff of Pasadena and Noel Dean Burke of Laguna Beach.

Family Dinner Party
Given to Observe
Anniversary

Twenty-four small scarlet tapers flickering gaily on a white-clothed table, completed the friendly message of birthday congratulations received last night by N. Carleton Smith, who found himself guest of honor at a surprise anniversary dinner given by Mrs. Smith (Miriam Samuelson) in their home, 516 West Fifth street.

The tapers on the cake were part of the general decorative effect in which white asters and candles were used with deep ruby glass. The dinner menu including a chicken and rabbit meat course, was followed by presentation of gifts to the birthday celebrant.

Place cards attached to small red rose nut cups, were written for Mr. and Mrs. Smith, the honor guest's mother, Mrs. Harry M. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. H. Raymond Smith and young son Philip; Mr. and Mrs. Alan Smith and little daughter Patricia Annette, and Larry Gulkin. After dinner the adult members of the group adjourned to Municipal Bowl to watch the ball game in which Dr. H. Raymond Smith played with the Santa Ana All Stars.

In Elliott Home

Mr. Leon M. Oakford of Beverly Hills was a guest yesterday in the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Elliott, 1022 West First street, and was accompanied home by her little daughter, June, who has been spending the week in the Elliott home, with her cousin, Miss Onale. June's brother, Dickie Oakford, accompanied his mother having reached home Thursday night from T.M.C.A. camp at Round Meadow in the San Bernardino mountains.

An additional guest in the Elliott home Wednesday was Mrs. L. E. Murphy of Long Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott and their little daughter are planning to join Mr. and Mrs. Oakford and their family from time to time during the first part of September, when the Oakfords will spend a vacation outing in Balboa.

Former Octet Members
Enjoy Party With Bride-elect

Former members of Polytechnic High School Girls' octet, who were brought together last night for a shower in compliment to Miss Winifred Triplett, whose marriage to Floyd Wright is anticipated as an event of the near future.

Mrs. Howard Douglas (Trudis Johnson) was hostess at the affair, entertaining in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Johnson, 920 West Sixth street.

Members of the octet enjoyed singing some of their school day songs during the evening. Part of the time was given over to monopoly, with Mrs. Paul Elmer winning first prize.

Since Miss Triplett's fiancé is an aviator, the hostess had arranged an appropriate setting in the dining room, where the table was overhung with an airplane surrounded with airplane balloons. Centering the table were bridegroom and bride figures standing in a pink and silver archway. Nut cups furthered the pink and silver motif. Marking Miss Triplett's place was a bride figure with a note directing the honoree on a search for a shower package.

Following advice to "look where a specially-minded person would look," Miss Triplett opened the piano bench to find a handsome make-up kit as a gift from the assembled group.

Invited to share the affair with Mrs. Douglas and Mrs. Johnson were Miss Theo Schwaiger of Long Beach, former director of the octet; the honoree, Miss Triplett and the Misses Alice Martin, Marijane Belcher, Elizabeth Garlock, Agnes Brady, Dorothy Gutman and Mrs. Joe Wilson. Mrs. Fred A. Triplett, all of this community; Mrs. Paul Elmer (Eiva Ringland) of Whittier.

DRUNK DRIVER LOSES LICENSE FOR ALL TIME

Sylvester Vasquez, 21, of Costa Mesa, considers today, taking everything into consideration, he just about got an even break, after all. Found guilty of drunk driving by a jury which sat in Santa Ana justice court August 18, Vasquez was a free man today—with one exception. He is not free to drive his automobile any longer.

Yesterday, Vasquez was scheduled on the records, to come up for sentence before Judge Kenneth Morrison in Santa Ana justice court. It was a coincidence that Vasquez had languished in county jail, during court proceedings, just 45 days, and the sentence handed to him by Judge Morrison was just 45 days, with the privilege of counting off all days already served in jail.

So Vasquez went home to his family.

After a traffic accident at Fourth and Parton in July, when Tommy Renfrew, 11, 606 West Second, and Jimmy Seibe, 9, 1008 North Parton, were slightly injured as the bicycle upon which both were riding collided with the Vasquez car, Vasquez was charged with a felony, drunk driving. The charge later was reduced to a misdemeanor when there seemed lack of sufficient evidence that Vasquez caused the accident, and the jury found him guilty. Vasquez' driver's license has been suspended upon order of Judge Morrison. Deputy District Attorney Clarence Sprague prosecuted the case.

Mrs. John K. Anderson went to Huntington Beach Tuesday evening, being dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Griener of Atwood, who are spending the summer at the beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin M. Black went to Loma Linda, Monday, visiting Mrs. Mary Mann, who returned with them for a visit at the Black home. On Wednesday they went to Long Beach, where they were guests at luncheon of Mrs. Mann's daughter, Mrs. James Walz.

Mrs. Carl Jungkelt entertained at luncheon Tuesday, it being the birthday anniversaries of her niece, Miss Margie Buck, of Santa Ana, and her nephew, Yewell Dye, of Los Angeles. Those present were Mrs. Jungkelt's sister, Mrs. Eva Dye, of Los Angeles, her son, Yewell Dye, Miss Margie Buck, Dorothy Yvonne Jungkelt, Dwight Elwood and the Rev. and Mrs. Jungkelt.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith and daughter, Norma Smith, of Bakerfield, were guests for several days in the home of Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin M. Black.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin M. Black and guest, Mrs. Mary Mann, of Loma Linda, and Mrs. Hallie Patterson attended the picnic at the Anaheim city park Thursday, which was given by the members of the Calvary church of Santa Ana.

COME TO CHURCH

The Church is the meeting place for God and His People

A SERMONETTE "COME TO CHURCH CAMPAIGN"

By ERNEST FRIEND, Pastor
Full Gospel Assembly

The Need of The Hour

(Mark 11:22)

The foremost, and essential need of the hour is FAITH in GOD, living, and active faith on the part of each individual, and church, not faith in a party, or creed but faith in the living God.

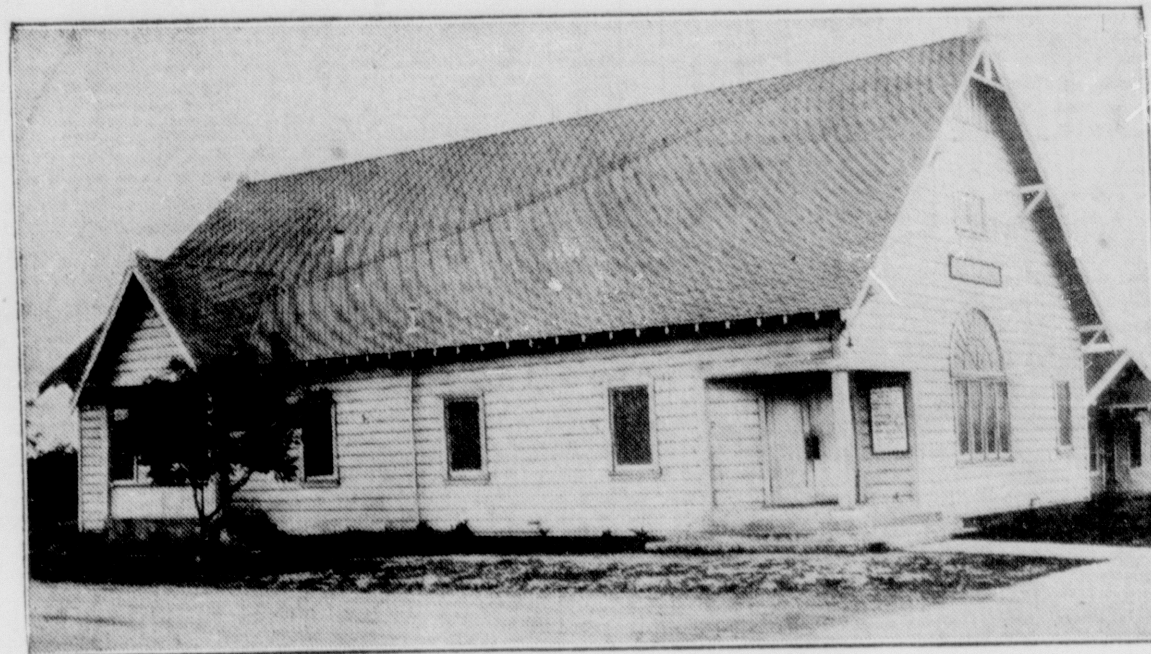

The day before, Jesus had cursed a barren fig tree causing it to dry up from the roots, this, the day following Peter called the Masters' attention to, how soon it had withered. Jesus saith unto them, HAVE FAITH IN GOD. Again in another place Jesus said, ALL things are possible to him that BELIEVETH. These are wonderful promises given unto us, indeed, it is the WORD of GOD and we must believe it.

Unbelief is an insult to our heavenly Father, if not gotten rid of will keep one from receiving God's best, and eventually will bar one out of heaven. Without faith, it is impossible to please God, is absolutely indispensable. That which is not faith, is sin.

Jesus' question is very pointed. Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find FAITH on the earth? The word of God also teaches us, that, before Christ comes back to earth, there will be a FALLING AWAY first, a departure from the inspired TRUTH, that, the time would come when they would not endure sound doctrine, but after their own LUSTS shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears, wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.

But let us believe that Jesus Christ is the SAME YESTERDAY, and TODAY, and FOREVER. He is well ABLE to destroy the root cause of sinning, people will sin because they are sinners, therefore, Jesus came into the world to SAVE sinners, making them NEW creatures.

Physical sicknesses, and disease of all sorts must loose their hold, under the rebuke of the Son of God. The Lord hath POWER, both in heaven, and in earth.

FULL GOSPEL ASSEMBLY, 1600 WEST THIRD STREET

Hours of Service: Sunday School, 9:30 A. M. Morning Service, 11:00 A. M. C. A.'s, 6:30 P. M. Evangelistic Service, 7:30 P. M. Prayer Meeting and Preaching, Wednesdays and Fridays, 7:30 P. M.

He sits ready to SAVE, HEAL, and baptize all with the HOLY GHOST.

In Jude 3, we are exhorted to earnestly contend for the FAITH which was once delivered unto the saints, i.e., believe the whole revealed body of truth, the Bible, which is the infallible WORD of GOD, receive, and obey its teachings, that, is faith.

Many people have only PASSIVE faith, they could not think of denying the existence of God, and the veracity of his word, but have not APPROPRIATED their faith in the DEITY.

The world today is writhing under the curse of SIN, sickness, sorrow, and every kind of grief has taken the place of REST and HOPE. Crime, war, and the unemployment situation is the unsolved problem as a whole, if every sound thinking person could have their desires granted they would have just the opposite, LOVE, PEACE, and JOY, joy in the fact that every NEED is met, spiritual and physical.

All that we need is found in JESUS, hath He not promised in His WORD to supply all our needs, according to His RICHES in glory, by Jesus Christ? Verily thou shall be FED.

Jesus said to the impotent man by the pool, "Wilt thou be made WHOLE?" said the man, "Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool." Jesus saith unto him, "RISE, take up thy bed and walk." And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed and walked. When the arm of flesh has failed, then Jesus will bid us RISE. If we but trust Him. While his eyes were upon Jesus, Peter walked on the water, but when he failed to keep his eyes on Jesus he sank. Jesus, save me! he cried. Jesus lifted him UP.

Life would be worthless without JESUS. Only trust Him. ASK God for ALL you want, THANK God for ALL you have, TRUST God for tomorrow. What the world needs is JESUS.

Financial and Market News

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(UP)—The stock market today rounded up a week of improvement that more than restored last week's losses with a substantial advance led by the railroad shares.

New York Central made a new high as did Nickel Plate, Lehigh Valley, and Erie First Preferred. These issues gained fractions. There were gains in other railroad shares that ranged upward to more than 2 points in Union Pacific.

Chicago Board of Trade

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(UP)—Fair recuperative power in Winnipeg in response to encouragement of Canadian farmers to hold their wheat, rallied all wheat futures today on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the close wheat was up 1/4 to 1 1/4, Sept. $1.09 1/2, corn was up 1/4 to 1/2, Sept. $1.06 1/2, oats were up 1/4 to 1/2, Sept. $1.06 1/2.

Under moderate commission house buying and local short covering, wheat prices bounded up. Prompt upturns in Kansas City and Minneapolis after the rally here aided buying.

Purchase of wheat in Winnipeg was inspired by reports indicating the Canadian cooperatives advised farmers to hold but their wheat.

ALLEY OOP

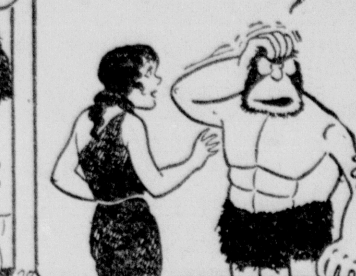

ALLEY, DO YOU REMEMBER THAT PACKAGE I CARRIED WITH ME ALL THE WAY FROM SAWALLA?

YEH-AN' WHEN I WENT LOOKING FOR YOU, I PICKED IT UP AN' BROUGHT IT ALONG.

YOU DID? WHERE IS IT NOW?

HM—DANGLED IF I KNOW! I REMEMBER, I HAD IT— THEN, THINGS WENT BLACK-AN' WHEN I CAME TO, I WAS IN THE WATER.

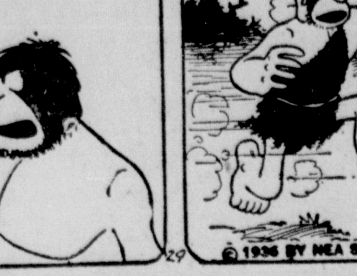

I KNOW— YOU DROPPED IT WHEN THAT LIMB FELL ON YOUR HEAD— IT MUST BE THERE YET IF IT AIN'T BURNED UP— I'LL GO SEE—

I SUPPOSE I'M CRAZY TO HOPE IT SURVIVED THAT AWFUL FIRE, UNHARMED, BUT—

I HOPE T'ELL YA, YOU ARE! WHAT TH' HECK IS IN THAT PACKAGE ANYWAY?

HERE— AIN'T THIS WHATCHA WANTED? IT FELL DOWN BETWEEN SOME ROCKS. SO IT AIN'T HURT MUCH— JUST A LITTLE SCORCHED—

Weekly Citrus Review

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—(UP)—Market on California Valencia oranges is doing better with a sharp advance noted on medium sizes, best stock.

The volume of sales was slightly below last week but shippers are looking to further improvement in the market.

Shipments will be increased next week to meet the improved demand for Valencia.

Shipments of peaches are declining from week to week, but competition from deciduous fruits of all kinds is still heavy also melons.

Porto Rico and Isle of Pines grapefruit are in heavy receipt in eastern markets and as a result California grapefruit is now off those markets. There is a fair demand however for California grapefruit in Pacific coast markets.

RECORD ROUT OF CRIME

It is with justifiable satisfaction that J. Edgar Hoover reports that the Federal Bureau of Investigation "has solved every kidnapping case on which it performed investigative work since enactment of the Lindbergh kidnapping law in June, 1932."

Moreover, says the chief of the "G-men," for every dollar spent in operating his department during the last fiscal year, approximately $7 in stolen property was recovered.

The Bureau of Investigation in the same period obtained 3905 convictions. Sentences imposed totaled 11,067 years. Included in these cases were those of Alvin Karpis, Harry Campbell, William Mahan, and Thomas H. Robinson, jr.

Here is a record that is America's best insurance against crime. It is adequate proof that we can control racketeering, gangsterism, and wholesale lawlessness. And it is one that state and local law enforcement agencies might well emulate.

WAR SCARE MAY BE MEANS OF AVERTING WAR

It sometimes happens that if you expect the very worst for a long time, you eventually find out it isn't going to happen to you after all.

It may be—and let us hope it turns out that way—that this will be the case with the much-talked-of next war in Europe.

No one predicts peace, nowadays. Practically every observer who takes a look at the European situation comes back to report that the world is teetering on the edge of complete disaster, with the outlook getting progressively darker as time advances.

The shipyards and the factories are working overtime in every industrial country on earth, forging new weapons; from all sides come reports of marching men, soaring airplanes, and tensely watchful waiting in the foreign offices.

But is this war for which everyone is preparing, doomed to happen, after all? Isn't there slightly better than an outside chance that it will not take place?

Hasn't the ordinary man—who doesn't want to die before his time, and who has a lot of things to do that he won't be able to do if war comes—hasn't he some reason for believing that he will be permitted to live, and do the things he wants to do?

There is this to think of. When a danger is exposed as plainly as this danger has been exposed, and for as long a time, people at least are not taken by surprise when at last it comes up close.

Having seen the danger coming from afar, people have been able to prepare themselves for it emotionally. They are not apt to be stampeded.

Petty incidents which might precipitate the catastrophe, if handled unskillfully, are sure to get the most careful attention.

A case in point is the recent flare-up over the Spanish revolution. This revolt brought extreme conservatism and extreme radicalism into direct conflict. It stirred up the antagonism between conservatives and radicals all across Europe. It could very easily have touched off a war.

But it was not long before the powers were conferring on ways to localize the conflict. The foreign offices, to be blunt, were scared to death; being scared, and knowing that war could be started so easily, they took steps to ward off the danger while there still was time.

For—and this leads us to the most encouraging factor of all—the various foreign offices, without exception, know that their people do not really want war.

The common man, in whatever country you find him, wants peace. If he is led off to war he probably will go, bravely enough; but he will not go gladly. If the war lasts very long, he is quite likely to take the weapons which war has put into his hands and turn them against the people who led him into war—and take a terrible revenge.

In 1914 war came unexpectedly. People had no time to set up defenses against it; leaders did not understand the dire reaction which it might ultimately provoke among their followers.

Today all that is changed. The dangers—all the dangers—are known by everyone.

Is one, then, being too much of an optimist in suggesting that this "inevitable" next war may not happen, after all?

STEEL IS POOR SETTING FOR TENSE
DRAMA

The great steel industry may be able to avoid that much-talked-of strike if some of the breathless commentators who go down to report on it can just restrain their enthusiasm for drama.

The steel situation is tense, of course, and it may get more so. Trying to bind 400,000 workers into a militant union over the decided objection of the employers is bound to involve a good deal of risk.

But the situation isn't helped any by the efforts which some observers make to see more tension than is actually there. Instead of giving a factual, analytical account of the great organizational drive, they make the situation look more like a stage-setting for the invasion of Belgium or the Sicilian vespers. "Scare" story reports of this kind make you smell trouble in the air, and give you the impression that the next act will see battle and bloodshed.

It is precisely this sort of thing that makes it hard for the industry to get through the present tension peacefully. It creates the wrong atmosphere. It makes everyone expect a strike; by taking trouble for granted, it makes trouble more likely to occur.

When the commentator remembers that he is paid to provide facts and not to show what a keen eye he has for drama, you get the sort of thing that the situation really needs.

For example: Willis Thornton recently made an extended tour of the steel district. He reported that the union organizers decidedly do not want a strike; that the steel magnates are not adopting a "Scram, you lugs!" attitude, but are sensibly waiting to see what happens; that the workers are enjoying steady employment and are carefully weighing the advantages and disadvantages of unionizing, before committing themselves; and that, all in all, the odds are clearly against trouble in the near future.

If we all could see it like that, the air would be a good deal clearer. We might as well realize that this steel thing is not a dramatic spectacle arranged for our excitement, but a delicate industrial situation in which both sides—although they may later make mistakes, become rash and defiant, or stumble into avoidable trouble—are behaving pretty coolly and unemotionally.

Us fellows was sitting on Puds Simkins's front steps waiting to be called in to our own houses for supper and tawking and arguing, and Glasses Magee said, Here comes Percy Weever, he thinks he knows everything, let's play a good one on him and deny everything he says.

Sounding like a swell idea, and Percy came up saying, G, fellows, it's still like and the moon's out already, you can see it down at the corner.

Good nite he expects us to believe the moon's on the corner instead of up in the sky. Glasses said, and Percy Weever said, I did not, I said you could see it rite around the corner, and the sun's still out, imagine that.

How can you see around the corner, you dopey nutt, you must have X-ray eyes or something, I said, and Sid Hunt said, And any ways everybody knows you cant see the sun and the moon at the same time because they're both attached to the same axis so it's impossible for them to both be out together, so what you really saw was a optical delusion caused by the shadow of the sun's surface on the surface of the moon's shadow.

G, imagine, I never heard that, Percy said. But I know one thing that's not a optical delusion, I know individual of population than for any other state in the entire union. I tried to find out here why this has been so. Were the distances greater? Did Nevada have a particularly unfortunate time? Was there any unusual influx of population? Was the divorce whirl hurt by the depression, or what?

I found business as usual—even the divorces running along about the same as always. Also, I found that Reno has been growing as a health resort entirely apart from its attractions as a simplified answer to personal incompatibilities.

Perhaps the secret was to be found in the state finances. I inquired about them and learned that the people of Nevada have been voting down bond issues involving expenses for improvements out of their state tax moneys but seem quite ready to accept as much federal bounty as they can get. Indeed, it is a matter of boast on the stump in Nevada as to what was obtained from Washington. The First National bank here got out a booklet entitled "One Sound State" and Governor Richard Kirman contributes an article in which he says in part:

The state of Nevada has a treasury surplus of more than $3,000,000, has no bonded debt outside the state, has never defaulted a bond issue....

"Nevada has no sales tax, state income tax or gift taxes. The Nevada inheritance tax law was repealed...."

"Nevada received $3,719,540 from the federal government for highway construction and improvement for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935. The state did not levy any direct tax for highway purposes for the biennium from July 1, 1935 to June 30, 1937 nor is any such levy anticipated thereafter...."

"The state of Nevada spent a total of $56,744 for unemployment in a year...."

Selling is good (bonus) and national income is very much stronger than last year. So are dividends. But employment and wages do not seem to be keeping pace, and they offer the only solid foundation upon which firmly established recovery can permanently rest.

RENO, Nev., Aug. 29.—Although President Roosevelt carried Nevada in 1932 by the unprecedented majority of 16,000 votes, he will not fare so well this time. If the election were held tomorrow he would carry it, but by about 5000.

The meaning of this change is that many conservative Democratic voters are leaving the party on the theory that it no longer represents Jeffersonian principles. Also the fundamental characteristic of this state is conservatism and this implies a growing recognition of the federal implications of various New Deal policies.

Broadly speaking, the mining vote—the labor of the state—is pro-Roosevelt. The business and professional men are for the most part going to vote for Landon, together with a host of property owners who are often heard to inquire what heavy taxes are forthcoming to pay for the huge expenditures.

Nevada has the doubtful distinction of being the state in which the Roosevelt administration has spent more money for each individual of population than for any other state in the entire union. I tried to find out here why this has been so. Were the distances greater? Did Nevada have a particularly unfortunate time? Was there any unusual influx of population? Was the divorce whirl hurt by the depression, or what?

Modern Life

ROOSEVELT AND LABOR

Unless Roosevelt proves to be a far shrewder leader than Lloyd George or Asquith, the miscellaneous forces huddled under the canopy of the New Deal may go the way of the forces under the banner of the Liberals in post-war England.

The Liberals in England stood in contrast to the British reactionaries as the New Dealers now pit themselves against the economic royalists.

The Liberals, as have the New Dealers, sought to satisfy labor by various compromises.

The Liberals, as have the New Dealers, courted labor with all the artistry of political flirtation that could be mustered.

What happened?

Did labor become a dependable underpinning of the Liberal party of England?

It did not.

On the contrary, the Liberal technique of compromise broke down under the growing demands and the growing group consciousness of labor.

The Liberal method of dealing with labor dramatized more and more the labor group as an element widely different from the other elements in the social and economic scene.

As an end result of the method of the British Liberals, the class struggle, instead of being mitigated, moved into a new and more intense phase.

The Labor party rose to power, drawing much from the ranks of the Liberals, leaving the Liberals a scattered, impotent, disheartened handful.

This may be the fate into which the New Dealers are heading.

REFORM MARRIAGE

My experience is that there is no such thing as a reform marriage coming out successfully. One or both of the parties is certain to be unhappy.

Most people are being themselves most of the time. They cannot help that even if they would. Usually one tries to be his best self some of the time, but that is a strain, and it takes a long span of trying, of failing and trying again, before one attains anything like an approach to living on that high standard.

It is unfair to impose the burden of oneself upon another who, in the very nature of things, has all he can do to support his own self in decency. One does full duty when one does the utmost to sustain one's own good qualities. Anything else is certain to fail.

This is why reform marriages fail. One partner has a fault that the other sets out to cure. The reformer hopes to put his pattern of good in place of his partner's pattern. It won't work. If a man or woman drinks to excess, marriage will not cure the fault. Marriage will not reform the drug addict, the gambler, the wastrel.

The notion that it will be part of the rosy mist that nature casts over those she wishes to involve in her pet scheme of love and marriage and reproduction. Don't be deceived by it. That rosy mist will rise, and the bright light of actuality will disclose the bald fact that for the habitual offender marriage is no cure. It is scarcely a brief interval of forgetfulness.

Once the marriage is accomplished all reason for the change in habit is removed and it once more resumes control, this time to stay.

Young girls are the most likely victims in such circumstances. They are in love with love, and almost any young man who feels the same way at the time, becomes the idol of their hearts.

Whatever faults he may have are likely to be lures rather than deterrents because girls are self-sacrificing, devoted martyrs to their ideals. They are so blinded by their emotions, so wholly taken with the thought of their divine missions, that they become victims of it.

Parents of such girls have a difficult task. The girls cannot hear and cannot see anything that lies beyond that mist of love, surrounding them and the loved ones.

J. P. Baumgartner, publisher of the Santa Ana Register, was this morning appointed a member of the conservation commission by Governor Johnson.

At last night's meeting of the city trustees, the Southern California Edison company offered to sell its distributing plant here for $155,000, and to furnish electricity wholesale to Santa Ana at two cents per kilowatt hour. The price does not include high power lines, sub-station, stables, office equipment or supplies, and the offer is made on the condition that the city contracts to take all its electric energy from the Edison company for 15 years at two cents per kilowatt.

T. H. Rowland and his daughter, Miss Ruth, left today for their home in Kansas City after having spent the greater part of the summer visiting the F. C. Rowlands.

H. H. Kelly is equipping his Cadillac garage on North Main street with a gasoline pumping plant. He has received a huge gasoline tank which he will bury under the sidewalk. This will be filled with gasoline which can be pumped through a hose into the tank of a car standing in the street.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The vigor of the current wave of industrial activity is surprising nearly all business seers.

The reliable federal reserve board economists have officially computed July factory output at 108 per cent of the average July's of 1923-'24 and '25.

Usually accurate private estimates indicate the figure for August is now about the same—108. It may ultimately slip a point up or down, but the preliminary figures for the first three weeks indicate clearly that this key index of government statistics has reached a post depression peak for two months running.

Note—the July figure does not represent an actual increase in production from June, but the August figure does. Ordinarily there is a sharp seasonal drop in July, but this year the drop failed to occur. Actual July production was about the same as June, thus swelling the seasonally adjusted figure. But from July to August, there is normally a seasonal increase. Therefore, maintenance of the 108 figure in August represents a remarkable expansion over July.

UPS—No special line is responsible for the new show of strength. Practically all varieties of factories displayed a contra-seasonal trend from June to July. The official seasonally adjusted July figures show these increases over June:

Iron and steel 119, up six points; textiles 115, up eight; food 92, up four; autos 122, up five; leather 112, up eleven; tobacco 124, up 7; bituminous coal 80, up six. (All these figures are percentages, based on 1923-'25 as 100.)

This month's line is up; autos are off rather sharply due to the shift to new models; textiles are up; coal is up seasonally; food is up better than seasonal on account of drought livestock being hastened to market; electrical power production keeps making new high records weekly.

EQUILIBRIUM—The most remarkable thing about it however, is that all this unexpected strength in production has failed to bring a corresponding jump in employment and payrolls.

Today, with production at 108 per cent, employment is around 88 per cent and payrolls about 79.3 per cent.

You can measure the continuous deficiency between these indices in the monthly government collection of seasonally adjusted statistics, charted below. Each index, except prices, is based on 1923-'25 averages. Prices are on 1926 as 100.

levels which will, at the same time, fall far short of being a satisfactory economic or social recovery. We are achieving normal levels of industrial production which are accompanied by growing numbers of local labor shortages, while, at the same time, there is a huge continuing amount of unemployment.

PRICES—A harbinger of stronger business expectations is the stiffening of prices all along the line. The general price level (not including farm and food) had been stable for months until recently. Advances are now creeping upward all along the line.

Since last May the general industrial level has risen from 78.8 to 72.7, which is a rather strong increase as price levels go.

Strongest increases are shown in these lines: Textiles now 70.4, up 9 since May; metals 68.3 up 7; chemicals and drugs 79.3, up 2.2; building materials 69.9 up 1.4; miscellaneous 71.6, up 2.5.
